Both painters and open figures are put in this category and are judged on their particular attributes (either painting only or open competition).

Dioramas

Overall displays and classic dioramas are for this category. Exhibits are judged on construction, finishing, composition and creativity.

Toy Soldiers

Exhibits are judged on composition, paint & finish and creativity of entry.

Juniors

Entrants are under the legal driving age.

Special Awards

As at prior EXPOs, there will be many special "theme" awards to be announced at the show.

These awards are sponsored by members, other associates and generous hobby shops.

EXPO 2009

Fellow Miniaturists, Modelers and Collectors

We are proud to announce EXPO 2009 sponsored by the New Jersey Historical Miniatures Associates

For over twenty-nine years we have hosted thousands of military miniature enthusiasts during EXPO, an event to celebrate our hobby. In addition hundreds of talented artists from all over the country have their work, competed and received awards. The high quality of their work is always inspiring.

Our selling floor is always filled with a wide variety of dealers who specialize in top notch, hard-to-find products. It's a buyers heaven!

Most importantly our shows are known for their hospitality and friendliness. So plan to spend your day at EXPO 2009. Bring friends and introduce them to a world of enjoyment and creativity.
